From the Desk of Fr. Francis

Greetings of Christ's Peace and Joy! Hope you all had a blessed week.

Thanks and Congratulations

Thanks to all teens who participated in their last month's activity, and to Ellen and Nick Andriacchi and other adults who led and accompanied them. Their next gathering is on Saturday Dec. 2nd beginning with the 5pm Mass and followed by sharing and activities in the Community Room.

Thanks to Sheila Lin and members of the Garden Club for taking care of the garden for the winter. They cleaned the leaves, loosed the soil and prepared the garden for next Spring.

Thanks to Joe Delfin for spending hours to replace and fix our ambo microphone.

Thanks to Elizabeth Mansancay and her husband Delfin for decorating the Altar of the Dead this year and for donating some flowers.

Thanks to all who participated in Catholicism 101 on Liturgy last Sunday and to all liturgical ministers for staying for their annual gathering. Thanks to Chris Lowe and Jing Zhang for taking care of the luncheon. Please pray for our lay ministers so that they can become the leaders that God calls them to be and their ministries can continue to be life-giving at St. Therese.

Congratulations to Tom Howard, who was officially commissioned as the Director of the Religious Education by Bishop Francis Kane on Sunday Nov. 5th. Tom passed the certification process of the Archdiocese. He is on fire to share the Good News and to witness Christ here at St. Therese & beyond.

Thanksgiving

As we get ready to celebrate Thanksgiving, we have another wonderful opportunity to reflect and re-examine our lives to see to whom and for what and why we are grateful. We live in a world that is troubled by violence, secularism, and relativism. The recent shootings in Las Vegas and Texas, and the robberies in Chinatown and the surrounding neighborhood remind us the vulnerability of life and the constant fears that people live with. We also live in a world of abundance. Our material wealth can be a great blessing for us and for others or a stumbling block for our relationships and well-being.

This is a time for people to be grateful for what they have, and it can also be a time for people to be troubled for what they don't have. If they spend too much time thinking on what they don't have, then they will surely be troubled. Oprah Winfrey once wisely said, "Be thankful for what you have; you'll end up having more. If you concentrate on what you don't have, you will never, ever have enough."

So what are you thankful for on this Thanksgiving season?

Peace ~ Fr. Francis

YOUNG ADULT MINISTRY

This Year's Catholic Campaign on Human Development at St. Therese will benefit the JASC

Jane Addams Senior Caucus (JASC) is Illinois' oldest community action organization led by seniors, representing over 680 senior members across Metropolitan Chicago. Throughout JASC's 41-year history, JASC members have worked on dozens of local, state and national issue campaigns. From holding affordable housing owners accountable, to organizing to raise the minimum wage, to standing up for nursing home resident's rights, JASC members have joined neighbors and families to work for the kind of world in which we want to live.

Jane Addams Senior Caucus is committed to developing a retirement and long term care system that allows seniors to age at home with dignity and independence and that fairly compensates the work done by home care workers. This year, Jane Addams Senior Caucus and our allies at Fair Economy Illinois organized a 15 day 200 mile March to Springfield for a budget that put the people of Illinois first. Hundreds of JASC members launched the march in Chicago, dozens of seniors attended the "listening sessions" lead in communities along the march route and over a hundred of JASC members traveled by bus to Springfield to welcome marchers. JASC members also joined with others to protect the Community Care Program. Seniors in Illinois deserve a retirement and long term care system that gives seniors the option to be able to age with dignity, with their loved ones and in their homes, JASC will continue to fight to make sure that this issue receives the attention it deserves.

The current administration is planning massive cuts in federal housing programs. This creates a potential crisis but also presents an opportunity to organize and win a new era of federal support for low-income housing consumers. Illinois could lose $400 million for affordable housing if these cuts are enacted. This would be devastating for seniors and for the communities that benefit from their stabilizing influence. JASC believes that the seniors affected by these deep budget cuts are best equipped to come together to resist these cuts while putting forward a proactive agenda to end housing inequality. JASC will continue to recruit, educate and organize seniors to develop and implement strategies to preserve and increase affordable housing. JASC housing justice platform links local and national housing policy reforms and provides our members with opportunities to take action together and with others impacted by this issue from Chicago, other cities and states.

Recently, our country witnessed events fueled by racism, hatred and bigotry in the streets of Charlottesville, Virginia. White Supremacists and Neo-Nazis, waving flags and torches, marched through the streets chanting racist and anti-Semitic slogans. Now more than ever, we must confront the effects of voter suppression and systemic racism on Illinois' communities of color and our nation as a whole. Jane Addams Senior Caucus Racial Justice Leadership Team is examining the way race intersects with our campaigns to produce deep structural and systemic barriers to the safety, health, and economic security of seniors of color in Illinois and across our country. JASC members will continue to fight and resist racism in all its forms, including our own complicity in it. JASC is in solidarity with all seniors and their families and our aim to end white supremacy in the struggle for Black and Brown liberation.

"GIVE YOUR TALENTS and GIFTS" ~Sister Caritas

There are people both you and I know who have many talents and gifts. It seems they can do anything. We sometimes compare ourselves to these people and say we have no talent. Other times we see people who can do one thing well. We may say, "I am better than him or her..." Most of these statements are probably not true.

Each person has a talent or talents. The gospel tells us about people with varying talents. What did they do with them? When they used them the talent grew to double what they had in the beginning. The person who buried the talent lost everything. The important thing is to use what we have. When we are asked to do something in the Church, we do not need to stand by and say, "Oh I can't do that. I don't know how. I never did it before." "I'm not good enough." "What will other people think if I make a mistake?"

Why do you use your talent in the Church? Do you use it to "be seen?" Is it something you do to feel important? Do you do things so you will be praised or can "run the group?" The reasons we use our gifts and talents is to help the Church grow, to give glory to God and to grow closer to God by giving of ourselves to Him. Some of the above things do happen for example we are seen and we are sometimes praised. The important thing is what do you do with your talent or talents and why do you use your gifts.

The wife in the First Reading met all the qualifications of being the best wife, a fine woman. She did not bury her gifts but developed them. Two of the servants in the gospel used their talents for the Master and they were rewarded. Each of us has a chance to use our gifts and you will find other talents as you do that or the ones you have will grow and multiply. It's your choice. We in the Church need all of the talents God has blest this Church with by its members. Don't go and bury your talent. Rather, use your gifts to give glory and praise to God and help others.
