From the Desk of Fr. Francis

Greetings of Christ's Peace and Joy! Hope you all had a blessed week.

Thanks

Thanks to Roberta Cheong for sharing her inspiring faith journey with our community. It is through suffering, she experienced redemption and transformation. Suffering is part of human life and each of us has our fair share of illness and other forms of suffering. When suffering comes to us, we know that our faith helps us to accept and to grow closer with God.

Ways to Fall in Love with the Eucharist

This Sunday 14 of our children will receive their First Communion. What a great joy for our children and for our community! Eucharist is the “source and summit” of our Christian life. After months of preparation, our children are ready to partake in this special banquet. They will be able to participate fuller in the Eucharist and literally “eat” the bread of life for the nourishment and growth of their own life.

First Communion is a very special occasion for our children. It calls us to rejoice and celebrate with them. It also invites us to renew our love for the Eucharist. Fr. Ed Broom, OMV writes that there are ten ways to fall in love with the Eucharist. I am going to paraphrase it here for your reflection.

1. Begging the Lord for a greater faith through the Eucharist.
2. Making a habit to visit the Eucharist as often as possible.
3. Practicing spiritual Communion by opening your heart for Jesus to enter into your soul.
4. Meditating on the Gospel discourses related to the Eucharist, particularly John 6.
5. Conversing with Jesus as friends do with each other.
6. Spending a Holy Hour in front of the Blessed Sacrament every day.
7. Adorning Jesus in the tabernacle.
8. Celebrating the Holy Sacrifice of Mass on a daily basis.
9. Remembering the four principal purposes of the Holy Sacrifice of Mass:
Adoration, Contrition, Thanksgiving, and Supplication.
10. Being Eucharistic missionary by bringing Jesus to others and others to Jesus.

Peace ~ Fr. Francis

Two New Ministries

“Cleanliness is next to godliness.” Currently, our Church is cleaned monthly. “Saturday Service Ministry” is a new initiative to add a second Church cleaning on the first Saturday of the month led by volunteers.

The second initiative is named “Caring Church Ministry.” With all the robberies and violence that have been going on in our neighborhood and city, we would like to create a safe environment for our parishioners and visitors to worship in our beautiful Church. Training will be provided for this ministry.

You are invited to join both or either of these ministries. If you are interested, please let Fr. Li know by calling the office at 312-842-6777 or e-mail him at fli@sttheresechinatown.org

CHINESE APOSTOLATE takes action this summer! If you are interested in being Christ for non-English speakers in our community this summer, please consider joining our Post Office Translation team. Perry Lau and Tom Howard are organizing a team of translators who will assist patrons at the Chinatown Post Office with translation on Saturday (10am-12pm) and Monday mornings (10am-2pm), which is their peak time. We already have approval from the U.S Postal Service. All we need now are a few mission-driven translators. If you are interested, please contact Perry at: PerryYLau@gmail.com or Tom Howard at 773 749 2065. God Bless!

News and Events

Catholic Charities Collection on Mother's Day

As a senior citizen, Antonia does not have much income left after paying for rent, medications, and daily supplies. She relies on the Catholic Charities Senior Food Nutrition Program for all of her meals. Last year 145,547 food packages were delivered to low-income seniors in Cook and Lake Counties. Without the food they receive from us, they would have to choose between a healthy diet and paying for medication and other necessities. Please give to Catholic Charities on Mother's Day to help seniors stay healthy. Learn more at www.catholiccharities.net.

Reflection from Newly Baptized---Peter Pon

My journey to Catholicism has signs, mile markers, detours, twists and turns. As with any other journey there is a beginning and ultimately an end. Events, landmarks and people mark travel and journeys. It is how, we as humans, record significance. This journey began at St. Therese School, in the fall of 1975. I was not baptized, as this was the case with most of the kids in my class. The first mile marker for me came not too long after. It was the funeral service for Fr. Bauer held at St. Therese Church. I didn't understand it and quite frankly, found it a bit scary. As this lone journey progressed, I became less scared as I learned more about God, Jesus, the Holy Spirit and the Ten Commandments in Religion class. I was always curious about where I was going and what I would find around the next curve. Sometimes this journey was not very exciting, like a long flat desert road. These were the days that religion class was taught with dramatizations of Biblical stories piped in on a cable network station. We would alternate from watching films weekly for 45 minutes with reflection at the end of the program to watching repeats of Davey and Goliath, a crude clay animated series that dealt with morality issues.

The next mile marker I reached was a few years later when Sr. Elizabeth picked me to read during a school mass. She gave me a copy of Luke's letter to Theophilus to practice and I practiced it until I had it perfect. It was my introduction to scripture and it was a very proud moment for me. As I sped past these mile markers, I found it to be very satisfying and I felt my faith growing stronger. Sometime around the 7th grade, I had decided that I wanted to attend CCD and be baptized with some of my other classmates. I'd mentioned this to my parents and they were supportive of my choice. Classes started and we met Br. Doug Shaw, our Catechist, and things got interesting. We went on a retreat and came back with a closeness that was not there until then. We shared a lot of personal feelings and experience. Then that summer I hit my first detour. For whatever reason, I'd lost interest and chose to not complete CCD. I was the only one in the group who did not get baptized. This detour from God continued after graduation and into high school. I was in a Catholic School taking religion classes, but still questioning my faith. Then my life took a drastic turn downhill when my Great Grandmother who raised me, passed away. I was still reeling from the loss when I was dealt another blow that would send me spiraling. My father suddenly passed away 6 months later and at that very moment I felt that God had abandoned me and felt that I should do the same. I had gotten lost on a very dark path and I didn't know how to find my way back to the road. It was then that Br. Michael McCabe put me back on the road. Two years of religion and we never read from the Bible. We did however pray in Latin, study theology, philosophy, economics and psychology. All of a sudden Catholicism could fit into my life again. It was glorious! Then I found myself lost once again.

Graduation meant heading off to college, a life filled with parties and plans to be successful but no more spiritual guidance and the subsequent confusion that came with it. I found myself continuing aimlessly down this road for a while. But while on this road I intersected with my future wife, who would become my rock and my permanent companion on this journey, along with her parents. It took a little convincing, but Barb and her family got me going back to St. Therese Church and spirituality was rekindled. The man that I'd have to ask for permission to marry his daughter never pressured me to go even though he was very involved with the church. He never chided me or acted disappointed when we didn't attend. We got back on the road together and along the way we were married and continued going in the right direction when our daughter was baptized. Years later, this was reaffirmed with our son being baptized as well. At this point in the journey, I'd been following the road but not making my own decisions. Then a stubborn little backseat driver named JJ Pon told me (from her car seat) that if I don't get baptized I won't go to Heaven and that she wanted me to go to Heaven. She said that Mr. Howard told her this and he knows religion. With those words, I could no longer continue to detour. I quite literally drove around with a carload of Catholics. So I said, "JJ Pon, you win, because I can't say no to you!" With that, I reached my first destination and my next marker in my journey to Catholicism. The journey does continue but I no longer feel alone. As I reflect on this, I think God was always with me but He'd just allowed me to choose my path. I just took the long way...

"LOVE ONE ANOTHER" ~Sister Caritas

My Mother encouraged my brother and me to love one another. We were always to come home with each other. We were encouraged to help each other. We always played together. When I would have an asthma attack in the morning, my brother would help carry my books to school and if I needed a little support in walking to school, he would let me lean on his shoulder. I always looked out for him and shared with him. It is where I learned loving one another, even though we did on occasion fight especially doing dishes together for our family.

Jesus tells us to love one another. This is His commandment for us. This is how we will be joyful. Jesus chose us to be His friends. Jesus did lay down His life for us. If we live this love for each other, the Father will give us what we ask for in the name of Jesus. All of this will happen if we love one another.

What does love one another mean? How do we act as Jesus' friends, if we love one another? It means when someone is in need, we do whatever we can. It means we are willing to listen when someone needs to share their troubles, their grief, and their sadness. It means we are willing to be joyful with them and celebrate when a person is happy, excited and joyful and wants to share these things with others. It means we take the time to walk the extra mile with that person even when it is hard and we are especially busy. It means to live out the Spiritual and Corporal works of Mercy. It means to reach out lovingly to others and bring them into our loving family, our Church community. It means to act out of love. John tells us, "God is love", and if we live out this love for one another, we will know God.
